#571: There Must Be Another Poster for the Chairs

"In an earthquake zone," our contributor wrote from Washington State. "we need to be mindful of things like securing file cabinet drawers." Thus the helpful little poster on the wall.

However, he continued, "I hope the person who posted the sign isn't the same person who found a place to store the old chairs."

Yes, one would hope. One also hopes he isn't just waiting for a second poster to point out the obvious.
